

```
import random

def chatbot():
    print("Bot: Hello! I'm a simple conversational bot. How can I help you today?")
    print("Bot: Type 'bye' to exit.\n")

    responses = {
        "hello": ["Hi there!", "Hello!", "Greetings!"],
        "how are you": ["I'm doing great, thanks for asking!", "I'm a computer program, so I don't have feelings.", "I'm just a bot, but I'm doing well!"],
        "what is your name": ["I am a chatbot created to assist you.", "You can call me Chatbot.", "I'm just a simple program."],
        "bye": ["Goodbye! Have a great day!", "See you later!", "It was nice chatting with you!"]
    }

    while True:
        user_input = input("You: ").lower()

        if user_input == "bye":
            print(f"Bot: {random.choice(responses['bye'])}")
            break
        elif user_input in responses:
            print(f"Bot: {random.choice(responses[user_input])}")
        else:
            print("Bot: I'm still learning. Could you please rephrase that or ask something else?") print("Bot: Try asking about my name, how I am, or just say 'hello'.")

Run chatbot
chatbot()
```

Bot: Hello! I'm a simple conversational bot. How can I help you today?
Bot: Type 'bye' to exit.

You: hello
Bot: Hello!
You: what is your name
Bot: I don't have a personal name.
You: how are you

Bot: I'm a computer program, so I don't have feelings, but I'm ready to chat!

You: bye

Bot: It was nice chatting with you!